Breathing Underwater*
by Sarah Allen

Olivia is thrilled to go on a cross-country road trip with her big sister Ruth. But as Ruth's depression gets worse, Olivia learns that even if things don't go back to the way they were, sisters will always be there for each other.

El deafo* by Cece Bell

The author recounts in graphic novel format her experiences with hearing loss at a young age, including using a bulky hearing aid, learning how to lip read, and determining her “superpower.”

Braced* by Alisson Gerber

Rachel Brooks’s scoliosis has gotten worse, so she has to wear a hard-plastic brace for 23 hours a day. She must confront the challenges her situation brings to her sports career, friendship, and self-image.

Fish in a Tree* by Lynda Mullaly Hunt

Ally’s greatest fear is that everyone will find out she is as dumb as they think she is because she still doesn’t know how to read.

Song for A Whale* by Lynne Kelly

Twelve-year-old Iris is treated like she’s not very smart by the people of her small town because she is deaf. When she learns of Blue 55, a whale who cannot sing to other whales, she begins to work on her own invention to communicate with him.

Born Just Right

by Jordan Reeves and Jen Lee Reeves

Jordan Reeves is many things, a disability advocate, an inventor, and a real-life super hero! Discover the true story of tween disability advocate and founder of Born Just Right.

Stargirl Series* by Jerry Spinelli

The students of Mica High are enchanted. At first. Then they turn on her. Stargirl is suddenly shunned for everything that makes her different, and Leo, panicked and desperate with love, urges her to become the very thing that can destroy her: normal.
